

The Child and Youth Rights Program Congratulates the 2024-2025 Research Grant and Fellowship Recipients

The Child and Youth Rights Program at the Faculty of Law's Minerva Center for Human Rights, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem awards grants each year for the advancement of research and pedagogy in the field of child and youth rights.

Warm congratulations to the recipients of postdoctoral fellowships:

Dr. Noy Naaman for conducting research on queer justice in schools.

Dr. Thalia Thereza Assan for conducting research on collective activism among Israeli children during armed conflicts and socio-political crises and the right to life, survival, and development.

Warm congratulations to the PhD fellowship recipient:

Ms. Tal Cohen Tabibi for conducting research on child participation in Family Group Conferences and their right to development.

Warm congratulations to the Individual research grant recipients:

Dr. Heba F. Zedan, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, for conducting research on ethnic minority stress and coping experiences in sociocultural and sociopolitical contexts among adolescents living in East Jerusalem: Examining psychosocial adjustment and resilience.

Dr. Yonat Rum, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, for conducting research on empathy towards children with disabilities as a fulfillment of their rights

Warm congratulations to the international research consortium grant recipients:

Prof. Mariëlle R. Brunning, Leiden University, and Dr. Shiran Reichenberg, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, for conducting research on access to justice for youth at risk: exploring children's right to development as part of a rights-based legal system for children.

Warm congratulations to the action research grant recipients:

Prof. Keren Gueta, Bar-Ilan University, and Prof. Dana Pugach, Ono Academic College, for conducting research on access to justice for war-affected children and youth: addressing obstacles to assure the right to life, survival, and development.

Warm congratulations to the Implementation research grant recipient:

Dr. Maya Rosenfeld, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, for conducting research on UNRWA's ability to provide the basic needs of Palestinian refugee children in times of protracted emergency and war.

Warm congratulations to the grant recipient for developing a child rights academic course:

Dr. Talia Diskin, Tel Aviv University, for developing a course on children's rights and childhood – law, culture, and human rights.

We wish all the grant recipients and fellows the best of luck in your research and teaching in the field of the rights of the child.